“Citizen participation in this process is absolutely critical. We want every voice that wants to be heard to be heard.” – Mayor Bill Boland

“We are excited to hear from the general public. The more information we can collect, the better we can meet the public safety needs of our residents.” – Sheriff James Allard, Steuben County

“Once we gather all the survey data and input from the listening sessions, we will look for common themes and ideas to move us forward. This phase of the process will reveal opportunities to strengthen the relationship between the community and our police forces.” - Dawn White, Corning Incorporated, Program Manager
